

A Thousand Lives

Far away
A lonely city
A neon sun, a restless heart is beating
Memories
A moment gone
A wildfire never known

Feels like tonight I'm not letting you go
But I can't stay
I get so tired of these games you play
The feeling died
It's gone away
A thousand lives await

Once again
The wound is bleeding
I wonder if you feel it
But I'll find my way
There's more to life
I see the road, I hear a voice... "just drive"

Feels like tonight I'm not letting you go
But I can't stay
I get so tired of these games you play
The feeling died
It's gone away
(why don't you stay?)
A thousand lives await

I can feel it coming in the air
I won't look back, won't look away
Tonight's the night
I break the spell

Feels like this time I'm letting you go
I can't stay
I am so tired of these selfish games you play
The feeling died, I'm far away
Tonight I'm gone
A thousand lives await
